

Friendly City Newsletter

Special Winter Edition – 2017

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

Happy New Year!

It's hard to believe that 2017 is already here, but it is. Firstly, I'd like to thank you all for continuing to read our Friendly City Newsletter, and for helping to make 2016 such a successful year for the City of Warrensville Heights. We have many good things in store for you, and plenty of updates. As you read on, you'll see that just as last year was, 2017 will be a year chock full of activities, events, and things to do for everyone in the community. I most certainly am proud to say that I'm anticipating all that is in store for us this year.

A notable mention about this edition of the newsletter is the plethora of opportunities that are presented for our local youngsters. Here in Warrensville Heights, we pride ourselves on the work that we do to enrich our youth, so I am pleased to highlight the city's Annual Summer Employment Program. This program allows both high school and college students to gain work experience as they intern within city departments during a 6-8 week paid internship in the summer. This program boosts civic engagement and helps these students to gain invaluable skills while on their paths to successful lives and careers. Make sure to read on for more information about this premier program, and when and how to apply.

Finally, if you haven't noticed, we don't usually have a January newsletter! With all the great things that we have going on in the city, and the great amount of news that we have to share, we decided to publish five (instead of four) publications this year. Also, you can expect this and quite a many more exciting and new updates in the future. Our newsletter will be getting a brand new look in the spring, so stay tuned.

Wishing you a peaceful and prosperous new year!

Sincerely,

Mayor Bradley D. Sellers

Ward 1 | Council President Dorise Hagwood

Greetings Good People!

I hope you had a safe and enjoyable year. Thank you for your continued encouragement and support.

This journey is not just politics with me, with many of you we have cried, prayed, celebrated and grieved together- my story is your story. I cannot serve the people without the people, and I am grateful that you are walking this journey with me. Thank you.

The 2016 Presidential Election spoke to the depths of my soul. My conscience tells me clearly and certainly that I must not prolong the bad dream that reopened a chapter that I've tried to close "The Civil Rights Movement." We lost too much, but not everything - for we will still stand together for as many tomorrow's that we are blessed with.

I was raised to believe in community and civil service. I still have much work to do and each day is a new opportunity to respect the trust you have placed in me to represent you in honesty and truth. I may not be able to solve every problem, but "I promise you"...I'll do all within my power to help you through it. No matter what...at the end of the day...how we treat each other is what really matters.

Let us continue to look out for each other during the remainder of the winter months. Please feel free to call me with any questions/concerns that you may have.

Yours in service,
Dorise

Ward 6 | Councilman Stanley Anderson

sanderson@cityofwarrensville.com

Born and raised in Port Gibson, Mississippi to share cropper parents. The lack of resources and opportunities led Stanley to migrate to Cleveland after graduating from high school. Stanley's parents taught him to always look at the bright side and to value hard work and discipline. After successful careers in the US Navy and General Motors, Stanley retired in 2003.

Stanley initially enjoyed his retirement, but his heart was always in public service. In 2013 he was successful in winning the Ward 6 council election.

Stanley understands the importance of being a member of a responsive legislative body and the important aspect of making our city government work. Additionally, Stanley has a forward-looking agenda for making Warrensville Heights a successful city.

Please drive safely and be aware of your surroundings while in public so as not to become the victim of a crime.

Thanks to the Ward 6 residents and their guests for braving the inclement weather on Saturday, November 19th to attend the Annual Ward 6 Holiday Party.

Stanley Anderson

COMMUNICATIONS

Angela Smith-Souza,

Director of Communications & Activities

1st Annual Holiday Lighting Ceremony A Success

On the evening of December 6th, the full and rhythmic voices of Jon and Bri Bryant, more popularly known as the singing duo Jabtune, silenced the growing crowd that had spilled out of Council Chambers and into the standing-room only space of City Hall to view the program. It was the City's first Holiday Lighting Ceremony, the weather outside was indeed frightful, and still, the community came out in droves to see the Mayor and City Council lighten up the City's welcoming post for sake of the season.

Many other organizations were represented at the event as well. In addition to the Holiday Lighting Ceremony, the City was presenting four local partners with charitable donations during the program to further their initiatives and programming which are serving and strengthening the community. Cleveland Clinic South Pointe Hospital Cancer Prevention and Outreach Center, the YMCA of Greater Cleveland Warrensville Heights, Cuyahoga County Library – Warrensville Heights Branch, and Ohio University Aspiring DOctors Program, all brought out their key leaders and executives to receive grants from the City that ranged from $5,000-$12,500.

The night ended outside on the steps of City Hall, where families, community partners, and city officials gathered as Mayor Sellers cued the lights. There was a plethora of smiling faces as the large group enjoyed chocolate, candy, hot drinks, desserts and music amidst the magnificent lights.

Change to the Community's Electric Aggregation Supplier

Our community is a member of the North-east Ohio Public Energy Council (NOPEC), which selected FirstEnergy Solutions to provide electric generation service to eligible participants at a savings of 6% off the utility's generation rate for residents and 4% off for small businesses.

After negotiations between the groups failed, FirstEnergy Solutions provided notice to NOPEC that they would be ending their contract with them.

As a result, effective with your January or February meter read date, FirstEnergy Solutions will no longer be your electric generation supplier and you will return to your utility's standard offer unless you choose a supplier. It's important to note that you will not experience any interruption in your service.

Participants in the electric aggregation program will soon be receiving a letter in the mail notifying them of this change and explaining their options. If you have questions when you receive this letter, please call FirstEnergy Solutions' NOPEC Customer Care line at 1-888-254-9227, which is available weekdays from 8:00 am to 6:00 pm.

Q. Who can I call if I have questions about my contract with FirstEnergy Solutions?

A. You will receive a letter in the mail that will explain this change and your options. However, if you have questions after receiving this letter, please call FirstEnergy Solutions' NOPEC Customer Care line at 1-888-254-9227.

Q. If I don't have an electric supplier, will I be without power?

A. No. Once your contract with FirstEnergy Solutions ends, you will begin receiving your generation from the local electric utility. You will not have any interruption in service.

Q. How do I shop for a new supplier? Where do I find information on offers available to me?

A. If you're interested in shopping for a new generation supplier, you can visit the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio's website: energychoice.ohio.gov.

Thank You for Your Service Mike Temari

On Wednesday, November 30th, Mike Temari walked into the Service Department lunch room with reluctance. He was greeted by several smiling eyes and laughing faces. After 30 years of hard work and dedication to the City of Warrensville Hts' Service Department, Mike was being ushered into his own retirement party. A modest man, Temari made it known that his departure did not require any fanfare. Yet, his coworkers saw fit to honor him with a surprise party anyway. Mike's initial reluctance quickly dissolved as he was received one after another by each of his colleagues: some of them giving him robust handshakes, many others embracing him as they prepared to say goodbye to a man who had served so diligently for three decades.

"Mike Temari embodies what this city is all about," said Mayor Brad Sellers. "He is committed to seeing that this community is always put in the best light. Mike has an undeniable love for Warrensville. We appreciate him and will miss him."

After a full afternoon of laughter, stories, and thoughtful nostalgia, the group bid farewell to their fellow employee, teammate, and friend.

Mike Temari, the City of Warrensville Hts graciously thanks you for your service and wishes you well!

FIRE - Do You Have A Fire Escape Plan?

Things You Should Do Right Now

- Install a smoke detector on every level of your home and have one inside each sleeping room and outside of each sleeping area. Test smoke detectors at least once a month.
- Develop a fire escape plan that identifies two ways out of each room and a family meeting place outside.
- Make sure your plan allows for any specific needs in your household.
- Practice using the plan, at least twice a year. If everyone knows that everyone else is ready to exit quickly, no one will lose precious time trying to help someone who doesn't need help.

For ideas to make an escape plan, visit FEMA at www.ready.gov/make-a-plan

Safety Tips

The majority of crime is a crime of opportunity. Please remember to lock car doors, even in your driveway, and keep valuables out of sight. Stop the mail and/or newspaper or have someone pick them up while out of town. Try to make your residence look lived in. If you get a new television, stereo or other item do not place the box out on the tree lawn whole. It advertises to anyone passing by what you have in your residence. Try to cut up the packaging so it is unrecognizable. Notify the police when you leave town. We periodically check residences when you are out of town.

The Cuyahoga County Library

The Warrensville Heights Branch is elated to announce that it has become part of the Greater Cleveland MyCom Network. MyCom is a network to connect Greater Cleveland's youth to their communities and futures while helping them become self-sufficient adults who give back to the community. With a "Youth First" philosophy for community development, the MyCom network was created by the Cleveland Foundation and Cuyahoga County in collaboration with more than 250 national and local individuals and organizations across Cleveland.

Each neighborhood engaged in MyCom works through a process of identifying neighborhood values and goals around youth development. The commonality that each neighborhood shares is the commitment to engage youth as active members in the community and agreeing to listen to their need for programming and partnering to make that happen.

More than 23,000 youth (from kindergarten to high school) have experienced after-school programs, summer jobs and leadership training. MyCom is the go-to resource for quality youth programs and neighborhood involvement.

OU College of Osteopathic Medicine - Aspiring Doctors Program

Pipeline program seeks tomorrow's health care leaders from local high schools

Rich-Joseph Facun | Photographic Resources Supervisor | OU-HCOM Communications

Do you know a high school student dreaming of a career in health care who could benefit from intense encouragement, academic enrichment, hands-on practice and personal guidance from working professionals?

The Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine at Cleveland is offering a free pipeline program to students at Warrensville Heights High School and John F. Kennedy PACT High School to help them realize this vision. The program is designed to attract high school students from historically underrepresented backgrounds into health care and science fields and prepare them to succeed as doctors, nurses, researchers or whatever health career they choose.

The Cleveland Aspiring DOctors Pre-College Program is a comprehensive four-year program, offered at the Heritage College, Cleveland, on the campus of Cleveland Clinic South Pointe Hospital in Warrensville Heights. From 9th through 12th grade, students in the program visit the Heritage College campus each year, where they work with medical school faculty, staff and students to:

- Learn about osteopathic medicine and other health care career options
- Take part in hands-on, interactive clinical exercises
- Hear guest speakers from the medical and health professions
- Benefit from a STEM curriculum and student enrichment activities
- Receive assistance with the college application process

Learning materials are presented by practicing physicians and other health care professionals, including medical school faculty. Heritage College medical students serve as mentors to individual high schoolers in the program, answering questions about the medical school experience, helping with research projects, and offering guidance on the nuts and bolts of education planning.

It's well recognized that the United States faces a looming shortage of doctors and other health care professionals, especially in primary care. The Heritage College is deeply committed to filling this need, and to creating a more diverse health care workforce, by recruiting more students from historically underrepresented groups and economically disadvantaged backgrounds.

The Cleveland Aspiring Doctors Pre-College Program provides the boost that can move a talented high school student from "I want to be a doctor" to "I CAN be a doctor." For more information about the program, contact Terra Ndubuizu at 216.295.7519 or ndubuizu@ohio.edu or Samantha Baker at 216.295.7941 or bakers6@ohio.edu.

The Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine is a leader in training dedicated primary care physicians who are prepared to address the most pervasive medical needs in the state and the nation. Approximately 50 percent of Heritage College alumni practice in primary care and nearly 60 percent practice in Ohio. CARE LEADS HERE.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT REMINDERS

Ben Brown, Interim Building Commissioner

Smoke Detectors

A lot of dwelling fires occur during the winter months. With this in mind please check all smoke detectors to make sure they are operating properly. Smoke detectors are required to be installed on all levels of the dwelling, including hallway outside of sleeping area, and in each bedroom.

Temporary Snow Fences

Temporary snow fences are permitted with the issuance of a Building Permit to be installed as long as such fence does not exceed 4 feet in height, and is not installed prior to October 1st. Such fence must be removed by May 1st.

Roof Systems

Harsh winter weather can take a toll on any roof system. During the winter months you could be dealing with unpredictable freeze/thaw cycles, snow accumulation, and high winds. Make sure all drains and gutters are clear of any debris that could impede the proper flow of water off of the roof system. Make sure you have a snow removal plan in place. A heavy snow load can have damaging effect on your roof if it reaches a load limit. It is strongly recommended that you have snow removal performed by a qualified professional.
